

I am in total favor of the 'Do Not Call' law. Since it's inception I can now sit and eat dinner without numerous calls coming in. But, it should be made stronger since I still get the occasional solicitor calling trying to sell me something.